

Sarah Chutiangtong has been employed as a Bilingual Speech Language Pathologist at the New York Eye & Ear Infirmary since September of 2005.

She earned a BA in Economics from Wesleyan University and an MS in Speech Language Pathology from Teachers College, Columbia University.

Ms. Chutiangtong's clinical experience includes diagnosis and treatment of pediatric and adult voice disorders, swallowing disorders, and neurogenic/developmental speech and language disorders.

Her primary clinical interests are in the rehabilitation of head and neck cancer patients, as well as voice and swallowing disorders. She is trained in videostroboscopic assessment, interpretation of Modified Barium Swallow Studies, and tracheoesophageal puncture prosthesis management.

She is fluent in English and Thai, and proficient in Spanish.